WEEKLY REFLECTIONS from your PASTOR

A man and his son were sitting in the living room watching TV, sipping a bottle of beer and he said, "Son, I never want to live in a vegetative state, dependent on some machine and fluids from a bottle. If that ever happens, just pull the plug." His son got up, unplugged the TV, and threw out all of his beer.

Today is Father's day. We honor our fathers who had been instrumental in making us what we are today. The originator and promoter of Fathers' Day was Mrs. John Bruce Dodd (Sonora Smart Dodd) of Spokane, Washington. The idea of a Fathers' Day celebration came to her first while listening to a sermon on Mothers' Day in 1909. Her own father, William Jackson Smart, had accomplished the amazing task of rearing six children--Mrs. Dodd and her five brothers--after his wife died at an early age. The sacrifices of her father on their eastern Washington farm called to mind the unsung feats of fathers everywhere. Mrs. Dodd's idea was approved by her church and publicized by the YMCA. In 1910, the mayor of Spokane issued a Fathers' Day Proclamation and the governor, M.E. Hay, set the date for an observance throughout the state. Mrs. Dodd's suggestions for observing the day included wearing a flower--a red rose to indicate a living father and a white rose for a dead father. By 1924, the custom had spread through the country, and Calvin Coolidge made the first presidential proclamation in support of Fathers' Day. Nearly 60 years later, President Richard Nixon made the holiday permanent in 1972, when he requested that Congress pass a joint resolution making the third Sunday in June a National Day of Observance in honor of fathers everywhere.

Many fathers today are role models like St. Thomas More and Louis Martin (father of the Little Flower), heroes of our faith. Even in these days, fathers are expected to be the providers for, and the protectors of the family. They are also supposed to be attuned emotionally and spiritually to their wives and children, and to be able to balance careers with family life. Fathers struggle to overcome temptation and conflict. They make sacrifices day after day for their families. They try to give their youngsters the kind of model that surely they deserve above all else, a model of goodness, holiness, faith, trust in God and fidelity to the teachings of the Church. This is what Fathers' Day should remind us of. This is a time for all fathers to reflect upon their duties as responsible and well-integrated men. True fatherhood demands commitment. Commitment demands maturity, sacrifice, and love. Every true father will take responsibility for all of his actions. Our nation has an urgent need of good fathers.

It is possible that some of you did not have the privilege to have a good dad and may be you are angry about it. But you can always rely on our Heavenly Father who is always loving and forgiving and ready to take you to greater heights of glory. A favorite gift for Father's Day is the cap emblazoned with the words "World's Greatest Dad." You may see more of them than ever this year on the heads of proud fathers everywhere. There is one dad, however, who doesn't always get a lot of honor on Father's Day. That is the "World's Greatest Dad," OUR HEAVENLY FATHER (Rom. 8:15, Gal. 4:6). He is

A Note from Father Hendricks regarding Latin Mass

The next Latin Mass will be Sunday, June 28 at 4:00 PM. We will celebrate the Mass of the Fourth Sunday after Pentecost. The extraordinary rite counts the Sundays after Pentecost indicating the growth of the church under the Holy Spirit, while the ordinary rite refers to these Sundays as Sundays of Ordinary Time.

*In the present situation of our nation, a serious question has arisen about the moral obligation of Catholics to work for the overturning of the Supreme Court decisions in Roe v. Wade and Doe v. Bolton. There are those who would tell us that such work is futile and, therefore, to be abandoned, so that we can devote ourselves to help prevent individuals from choosing abortion. As Catholics, we can never cease to work for the correction of gravely unjust laws. Law is the fundamental expression of our culture and implicitly teaches citizens what is morally acceptable. Our efforts to assist those who are tempted to do what is always and everywhere wrong or are suffering from the effects of having committed a gravely immoral act...ultimately make little sense, if we remain idle regarding unjust laws and decisions of courts regarding the same intrinsic evils. We are never justified in abandoning the work of changing legislation and of reversing decisions of the courts which are anti-life and anti-family.*

our spiritual Daddy, actively involved in all areas of our lives. It is He on Whom we lean in times of pain and hurt; it is He whom we call on in times of need; it is He who provides for us in all ways--practical, emotional, and spiritual. He wants us to think of Him as "Dad." This being so, let us take this Fathers' Day to honor Him, the REAL "World's Greatest Dad." Many of us pray the "Our Father" day after day, without paying attention to or experiencing the love and providence of our Heavenly Father. Let the earthly fathers draw strength from their Heavenly Father. On this Fathers' Day please don't forget to pray for us--your spiritual fathers--men who are called to be fathers of an immensely large parish family through the sacrament of Holy Orders.

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

In harbor towns throughout the world, seafarers will hear today's Gospel with profound awareness of the power of a storm at sea. In Gloucester, Massachusetts, a community of fishermen has gone down to the sea in ships for centuries, some never to return, as recounted in the book and film The Perfect Storm. In the late nineteenth century, a stranded fisherman in the North Atlantic broke an oar. Adrift, he begged Mary for help, and when he returned his story inspired the building of Our Lady of Good Voyage Church. Over the years, grateful sailors have surrounded the pews with models of their ships. Between the twin towers, a statue of Our Lady holds a vessel in her upraised hand as a symbol of a safe voyage. It is visible to homecoming sailors from the harbor's entrance. For centuries, sailors have looked to Mary as Stella Maris, "Star of the Sea." Indeed, that is possibly the most ancient title of Mary. In Aramaic, the language of Jesus, the words "Our Lady" sound similar to the word meaning "pilot" or "leader," someone who could lead one to safety. Certainly, a treasure of our tradition is how Mary points the way to her Son, the one who calmed the seas and accompanies us to safe harbor.

A few weeks ago a woman was killed in an auto accident. She was very well liked, so the office shut down for her funeral and it was on the news and so on. On the day the workers came back to work, they found this poem in their e-mail that the deceased woman had sent on Friday before she left for home.

"If tomorrow starts without me, and I'm not there to see, if the sun should rise and find your eyes all filled with tears for me; I wish so much you wouldn't cry the way you did today, while thinking of the many things, we didn't get to say.

I know how much you love me, as much as I love you, and each time that you think of me, I know you'll miss me too; but when tomorrow starts without me, please try to understand, that an angel came and called my name, and took me by the hand and said my place was ready, in heaven far above, and that I'd have to leave behind all those I dearly love.

But as I turned to walk away, a tear fell from my eye, for all my life, I'd always thought I didn't want to die. I had so much to live for, so much left yet to do, it seemed almost impossible, that I was leaving you.

I thought of all the yesterdays, the good ones and the bad. I thought of all that we shared, and all the fun we had. If I could relive yesterday, just even for a while, I'd say good bye and kiss you and maybe see you smile.

But then I fully realized that this could never be, for emptiness and memories would take the place of me. and when I thought of worldly things I might miss some tomorrow, I thought of you, and when I did, my heart was filled with sorrow.

But when I walked through heaven's gates, I felt so much at home. When God looked down and smiled at me from His great golden throne, He said, "This is eternity, and all I've promised you." Today your life on earth is past, but here life starts anew. I promise no tomorrow, but today will always last and since each day is the same way, there's no longing for the past.

So when tomorrow starts without me, don't think we're far apart, for every time you think of me, I'm right here, in your heart."
