F.E.A.R.=FALSE EVIDENCE APPEARING TO BE REAL

Fear of Sunday Jokes in a church bulletin: To make it possible for everyone to attend Church next Sunday, we are going to have a special "No Excuse Sunday": a) Cots will be placed in the foyer for those who say, "Sunday is my only day to sleep in." b) There will be a special section with lounge chairs who feel that our pews are too hard. c) Eye drops will be available for those with tired eyes from watching T.V. late Saturday night. d) We will have steel helmets for those who say "The roof would cave in if I ever came to Church." e) Blankets will be furnished for those who think the church is too cold and fans for those who say it is too hot. f) Score cards will be available for those who wish to list the hypocrites present. g) Relatives and friends will be in attendance for those who can't go to Church and cook dinner, too. h) We will distribute "Stamp Out Stewardship" buttons for those who feel that Church is always asking for money. i) One section will be devoted to trees and grass for those who like to seek God in nature. k) Doctors and nurses will be in attendance for those who plan to be sick on Sunday. l) The sanctuary will be decorated with both Christmas poinsettias and Easter lilies for those who never have seen the Church without them. m) We will provide hearing aids for those who can't hear the preacher and cotton for those who say he is too loud.

Pope Francis points out, fear makes us cruel. The pope says fear is what drives a community to build walled friendships, deny the other, and abandon the poor. What are we so afraid of—we who are still arguably the most powerful and secure nation on earth—that we should surrender our better natures?

These days, nearly all of us have been in conversations that end badly, because of our deep divisions. There may be family members we don't talk to, friends who don't come around. I've sat at more than one table where someone had to physically stand between two others to prevent an escalating conflict. As I move around the church, in every state I've visited I hear people report how tired they are. I feel the same weariness, which comes from shifting anxiety from the front burner to the back every few hours. I'm reminded that Jesus not only says, "Fear no one," but elsewhere he declares, "Fear is useless" (Luke 8:50, 1970 NAB translation). To which he appends the important dictum: "What is needed is faith."

Will the anxieties of this present season be enough to kill our souls, to rob us of the capacity for compassion or empathy? Will fear triumph over virtues like love, kindness, generosity, and biblical hospitality to the marginalized? Will "securing ours" prevail over the mandate for the common good, which assures everyone gets what they need? If what is needed is faith, then, O Lord, increase our faith!

Jesus gives three reasons why his apostles, and we, should not be frightened. The first reason is that opponents will not be able to prevent Jesus' followers from succeeding in their mission because God will expose their evil plans and deeds: "nothing is covered up that will not be uncovered." The Lord "will bring to light the hidden things of darkness" (1 Cor 4:5), and will vindicate the faithful. That God will not permit evil to win is the promise of v. 26. The second reason not to be afraid is the limited power of our opponents. They can kill the body, which dies all too soon anyway, but have no power over the soul. The third reason we should not be afraid is God's compassionate love. We are more important to God than sparrows.

"The church is not a community of the perfect, but a community of sinners, obliged to recognize their need for God's love, their need to be purified through the cross of Jesus Christ". Pope Benedict XVI

FEAR NOT

How do people find hope in the face of suffering and death? That is the question addressed by today's scriptures. We hear of the suffering of Jeremiah and the psalmist. We hear of the death that "reigned from Adam to Moses" (Romans 5:14). We hear of the fears of the Twelve as Jesus sends them out into the world to preach and heal.

Through all this tribulation one message rings out loud and clear—"Do not be afraid!" The God who saved Jeremiah and the psalmist and Jesus is fully present to save us through the gracious gift of Jesus Christ. We have nothing and no one to fear.

YOUTH MINISTRY CORNER

June's Theme: Super Heroes for Christ

This week: Superheroes use their talents to protect and help society. Our church calls superheroes saints. They make the sacrifice for the faith, lead others to God's love, and use their gifts to spread the good news. This can be at work, school, church or even home. The saints are good examples for our lives. Spend some time on the internet discovering the stories of the saints. You might be surprised that they are just ordinary people who have used their talents for the will of God.

Pray: Jesus, I really want to be a superhero too. I don't need special "super powers". I just need you to guide me in using my talents for my community and the world. Help me to be the best me I can be, and when I stumble and fall, help me to keep going. Thank you for the many examples of people that encourage me to keep trying.

Upcoming Events:

- ◆ Jun 25th – Youth Group Meeting and Pool Party – Super Heroes and Saints
- ◆ Jul 14th – Sheriff's Rodeo – Family outing for the parish. Presale tickets cost $10 age 12 and up. Youth Group will cover cost for members and $5 for parish students.
